Swiss tradition, worldwide success.

Convincing quality SWISS MADE

Outstanding precision engineering and high-quality design from Switzerland – this is what characterises the keys from KESO. The distinctive trapezoid design guarantees clear identification of the keys, while special embossing techniques create high-contrast surfaces and pleasant haptics. But KESO keys don't just fit comfortably in the hand – they are also extremely eye-catching. Now you can choose from 13 trendy colours – so that your key really is your own personal key.

The new colour scheme
The colour trends in the modern construction industry can be divided into three main categories: classic colours, tonal colours and accent colours. The new coloured cap keys in a total of 13 colours are adapted precisely to these colour trends.

Classic colours
Classic colours have specific associations. Blue is regarded as calm, while red is interpreted as happy or alarming. These properties are not only used by architects today, but are also used in facility management in a targeted way.

Tonal colours
Local colour refers to the actual colour tone of the material used (e.g. wood) – while the tonal colour is the subjectively perceived colour tone created as a result of lighting or shading, for example. Tonal colours enable you to adapt your keys harmoniously to the surrounding material.

Accent colours
Bright accent colours communicate zest for life, gaiety and vibrancy. Accent colours are therefore used ever more frequently in living spaces and are also a real eye-catcher when used as key colours.
