

PRIVACY NOTICE

for the ASSA Limited Pension and Life Assurance Scheme (the "Scheme")

This privacy notice has been prepared by ASSA Limited Pension and Life Assurance Scheme ("Trustee", or "we") in its capacity as trustee of the Scheme. The Trustee is registered as a controller of personal data with the Information Commissioner's Office ("ICO").

This notice will also be made available online at Privacy & Legal OS | ASSA ABLOY.

This privacy notice replaces the previous general privacy notice last updated in April 2023 and supplements any other notices and statements we issue that are specific to particular data collection / processing activities.

Why we are providing this notice to you

As the trustee of the Scheme we hold certain information about you and from which you can be identified (either from the information itself or with other information that we may hold) ("personal data"). In line with the transparency requirements of applicable data protection laws, we are required to give you specified information about the personal data we hold about you, how we use it, and the safeguards that are in place to protect it. This notice is designed to give you that information.

Why we process your personal data

The Trustee processes personal data about you, in its role as controller, for the proper handling of all matters relating to the Scheme, including its administration and management, calculating, securing and paying benefits and managing liabilities in relation to it.

Details regarding how and why we process your personal data and the legal bases relied on by the Trustee when carrying out this processing are set out in the Schedule. The Schedule also provides information concerning the conditions that we rely upon when processing "special categories" of particularly sensitive personal data (including personal data concerning health).

What personal data we hold and how we obtain it

Please refer to the Schedule for information concerning the types of personal data we may hold and process about you.

We obtain some of this personal data directly from you. We may also obtain data from your employer (for example salary information), from a member of the Scheme (where you are or could be a beneficiary of the Scheme as a consequence of that person's membership), and from a variety of other sources including data tracing agencies, public databases, our advisers, additional voluntary contribution (AVC) arrangement providers, and government or regulatory bodies.

Where you have provided us with personal data about other individuals, such as family members, dependants or potential beneficiaries under the Scheme, please ensure that those individuals are aware of the information contained within this notice.

How we will use your personal data

We may use this data to deal with all matters relating to the Scheme, including its administration and management. For further information, please refer to the Schedule.

Organisations that we may share your personal data with

From time to time, we will share your personal data with our advisers and service providers so that they can help us carry out our duties, rights and discretions in relation to the Scheme. These include the following advisers and service providers (for some advisers/providers we have provided links facilitating access to their privacy notices, which provide information about how they address their obligations in relation to personal data):

The Scheme administrator, currently Aptia Group Limited whose privacy notice can be found via <https://aptia-group.com/en-gb/privacy-notice>

The legal advisers to the Trustee, currently Squire Patton Boggs (UK) LLP whose privacy notice can be found via <https://www.squirepattonboggs.com/en/footer/privacy>

The Scheme actuary, currently Elaine Wilson of Mercer Limited, a copy of whose Fair Processing Notice is available on request from sandeep.pawar@assaabloy.com

The Scheme auditors, currently Cooper Parry

Investment advisers, currently SEI whose privacy notice can be found via Privacy notice | SEI U.S.

AVC arrangement providers

Tracing bureaus for mortality screening and locating members and beneficiaries

The Trustee's insurers

The Scheme's banks

Suppliers of IT

Payroll providers

In some instances, advisers and service providers will be controllers in their own right and will be directly responsible to you for their use of your personal data. They may be obliged under the data protection laws to provide you with additional information regarding the personal data that they hold about you and how and why they process that data. Further information may be provided to you in a separate notice or may be obtained from the advisers and service providers directly, for example, via their websites. Whenever one of our advisers or service providers acts as a joint controller with us in respect of your personal data, because we jointly determine the purposes and means of processing it, we will agree with them how we are each going to meet our respective and collective obligations under the data protection laws. If you would like more information about how such an arrangement works, please contact us using the contact details below.

We may also provide some of your data to the Scheme's sponsoring employers (including Assa Abloy Limited) and group companies of those employers, their advisers and potential purchasers of their businesses.

In addition, where we make investments or seek to provide benefits for Scheme members and other beneficiaries in other ways, such as through the use of insurance or pension scheme mergers, then we may need to share personal data with providers of investments, insurers and other pension scheme operators.

The advisers, service providers and organisations referred to in the paragraphs above may use personal data to perform their functions as well as for statistical and financial modelling (such as calculating expected average benefit costs and mortality rates) and planning, business administration and regulatory purposes. They may also pass the data to other third parties (for example, insurers may pass personal data to other insurance companies for the purpose of obtaining reinsurance), to the extent they consider it appropriate to do so.

Where requested or if we consider that it is reasonably required, we may also provide your personal data to:

the Pension Protection Fund; and government bodies, regulators and dispute resolution and law enforcement organisations (including the courts, The Pensions Regulator, the Pensions Ombudsman, and HMRC).

They may then use the data to carry out their functions.

Pensions dashboards

The Trustees may process your personal data in order to meet their legal obligations relating to pensions dashboards. This includes advance processing to prepare for the introduction of pensions dashboards and connect the Scheme to the pensions dashboards system, as well as ongoing processing once pensions dashboards are made available to the public.

A pensions dashboard is an online tool which will enable individuals to view basic information about their pension savings from multiple pension schemes (excluding pensions already in payment). If an individual submits a request for information via a pensions dashboard, the data within that request will be matched against the personal data that we hold. If we can confirm that the request has been made by a Scheme member, and that member's pension has not yet started to be paid, then information about the pension may be made available to the member via the pensions dashboard. If we are uncertain whether the individual is entitled to a pension from the Scheme then we may carry out further data processing to verify whether such an entitlement exists. For further information about pensions dashboards, please refer to the Pensions Dashboards Programme website (<https://www.pensionsdashboardsprogramme.org.uk>).

Transferring personal data outside the UK

In some cases, recipients of your personal data may be outside the UK. This may include affiliates / overseas offices of the Scheme's service providers. This means your personal data may be transferred outside the UK to a jurisdiction that may not offer an equivalent level of protection as is provided in the UK. Currently data is transferred outside the UK by the Scheme administrator, Aptia Group Limited and by the Scheme actuary, Mercer Limited.

Additional safeguards are in place to protect your personal data when we (or service providers who process personal data on our behalf) transfer it outside the UK as at least one of the following measures is relied on:

the transfer is to a country that has been deemed to provide an adequate level of protection for personal data by the UK Secretary of State; or standard contractual clauses (approved by the relevant governmental or supervisory authority) are in place with the recipient of the data, requiring your personal data to be safeguarded in accordance with applicable laws.

Please contact the Trustee using the contact details below, if you require further information about the safeguards that have been adopted or would like to request (free of charge) a copy of applicable standard contractual clauses that we use in relation to the processing of your personal data.

How long we keep your personal data

We will only keep your personal data for as long as we need to in order to fulfil the purposes identified above and detailed further in the Schedule. In practice this means that we will retain your data for such period as you (or any beneficiary who receives benefits after your death) are entitled to benefits from the Scheme and for such longer period as may be required to deal with any questions, complaints or claims that we may receive about our administration of the Scheme. We may also retain your data for a longer period to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations.

Your rights

You have a right to access and obtain a copy of the personal data that the Trustee holds about you, and to ask the Trustee to correct your personal data if there are any errors or it is out of date or incomplete.

You have a right to ask the Trustee to erase your personal data where it is being processed on a legal ground other than for complying with a legal obligation and where:

you believe we no longer need to process the personal data for the purposes identified above and detailed further in the Schedule;

you had given consent to the processing of the personal data but you subsequently withdraw your consent and there is no other lawful basis upon which we can process the personal data;

the personal data has been processed unlawfully or it has not been erased when it should have been; or you have been successful in objecting to the processing.

In some cases, you may also have a right to request that the processing of your personal data be restricted or to transfer your personal data (for example, to another pension scheme).

In certain circumstances, you also have the right to object to the processing of your personal data, for example:

where we rely on legitimate interests as our lawful basis for processing; in which case, we must carry out an exercise balancing our legitimate interests with your rights and freedoms as a data subject (if you disagree with the outcome of that balancing exercise you have the right to refer the matter to the ICO (or the Information Commission, if it has taken over the functions of the ICO)); or where the processing is for direct marketing purposes.

Where we rely upon your consent to lawfully process your personal data, including explicit consent, you have the right to withdraw your consent to the processing at any time by notifying the Trustee in writing. Withdrawal of consent will not affect the lawfulness of processing based on your consent before it is withdrawn.

You have the right to make a complaint to us if you consider that, in connection with your personal data, there is an infringement of data protection legislation.

You can obtain further information about these rights from the ICO at: www.ico.org.uk or via its telephone helpline (0303 123 1113).

If you wish to exercise any of these rights (including your right to make a complaint to us) or have a query or concern regarding the processing of your personal data, please contact the Trustee using the contact details provided below.

You also have the right to make a complaint to the ICO (or the Information Commission, if it has taken over the functions of the ICO) if you consider that that, in connection with your personal data, there is an infringement of data protection legislation - you can do this via the ICO's website or telephone helpline (referred to above).

As explained in this privacy notice, one of the reasons we collect and hold your personal data is to administer Scheme benefits. If you do not provide the information we request, withdraw your consent to the processing, or ask that the personal data we already hold is deleted or that the processing of the personal data be restricted, this may affect our ability to administer your benefits (including the payment of benefits from the Scheme) or consider your applications or complaints concerning the Scheme. In some cases it could mean the Trustee is unable to put your pension into payment or has to stop your pension (if already in payment).

Updates

We may update this notice periodically. Where we do this, we will inform you of the changes and the date on which the changes take effect.

SCHEDULE

How and why we process your personal data

There are six lawful bases for processing personal data under the UK GDPR and the Trustee ("we", "us" or "our") must rely on at least one of these whenever we process your personal data. The six lawful bases are summarised below.

No	Lawful Basis	Description
1	Consent	You have consented to us processing your personal data for one or more specific purposes.
2	Contract	The processing is necessary for the performance of a contract which you are a party to, or in order to take steps at your request prior to entering into a contract.
3	Legal obligation	The processing is necessary for compliance with our legal obligations as a trustee of an occupational pension scheme.
4	Vital interests	The processing is necessary in order to protect your vital interests or those of another person (vital interests are interests that are essential for someone's life, for example, emergency medical care).
5	Public task or official authority	The processing is necessary for the performance of a task in the public interest or so that we can exercise any official authority that we have vested in us.
6	Legitimate interest	The processing is necessary for legitimate interests pursued by us or the legitimate interests of a third party, unless there is a good reason to protect your personal data which overrides those legitimate interests.

Our legal grounds for processing your personal data are set out in the table below. If you have any comments or concerns about our use of your personal data (including as described below) please contact us directly via the details set out in the 'Contacting Us' section above.
