Hangar & Large Application Doors

ASSA ABLOY

The Hangar & Large Application Door division of ASSA ABLOY partners with organizations to protect equipment, personnel, and critical assets across secure facilities around the world. Our doors are engineered for reliability, quality and performance, ensuring operational efficiency in the most demanding environments.

Why ASSA ABLOY?

The first vertical lift fabric Megadoor® was installed in 1977. Since then we have installed over 10,000 doors globally. For over 40 years, our technology has proven to be more reliable, energy efficient and lower maintenance in the world's harshest climates, than any other large door system.

We are a global company

We help billions of people move through a safer more open world with ease.

Together we are stronger

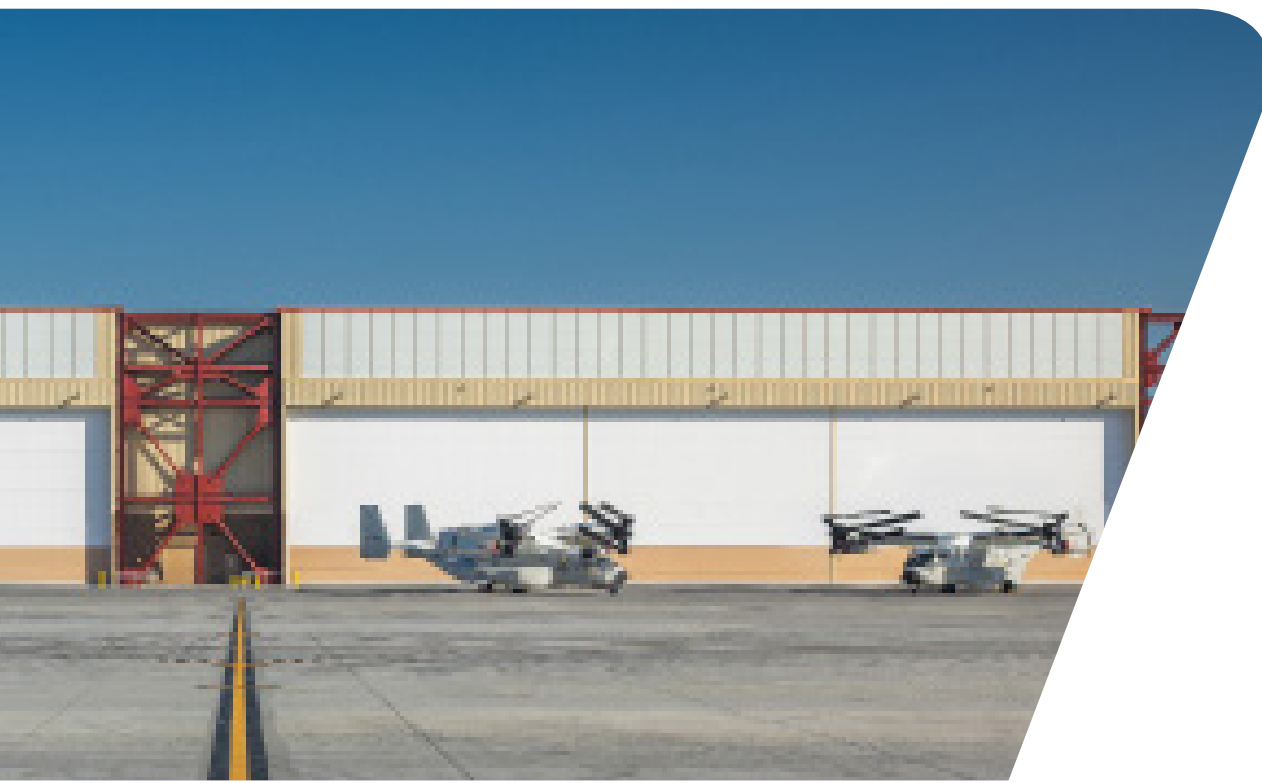

Partnering with our customers to solve today's challenges and drive tomorrow's success.
